NONSTOP TO REVELSTOKE—A JOURNEY BEGINS

Volume 1, Issue 1

Mar 1st 2010

Revvig at Revvie!!

The Best of the Best Nonstop Boarders and Skiers with the two insane boarder instructors!

Leaving on Friday afternoon, 13 hopeful skiers and boarders got on the 55 seater to go to Revelstoke in search of the much sought after, extremely scarce animal: Powder!!

Escorted by those incredibly responsible instructors Johnny and Brian, the expectant NonStoppers immediately got there drinks license, allowing beer on the bus and the party began! Arriving in Revelstoke the bus has passed through some rain, to a groan from the group but some words from Johnny : “raining down in town, it’ll be snowing up top.” Really??

After an interesting night out in the “thriving” industrial town of Revelstoke: German-Indian Curry House??, Saturday morning dawned with some really excited boarders/skiers. It had been raining all night and we couldn’t wait to get up the mountain. We got on the local free bus and hit the slopes.

About to Start!

Look at the snow!!

There were, apparently, pistes on the mountain. Wouldn’t really know: Revelstoke has some awesome glades— tree runs prepared for skiers and boarders to the extent that they have trees prepped as rails!! All you could hear was the laughs, shouts and screams all the way down the mountain as the NonStoppers discovered the joy of powder in tree runs. Oh! And you could follow Johnny by his singing and his tracks straight-lining through the trees! Sick!!

It snowed all day, we found rails, drop-ins, jumps, bumps and insane bowls. We got lost, we got tired, we got slightly inebriated!! (helped by Canada winning the Hockey!!).

Respect to Dave—popped a 360 of a kicker and hurt his shins badly enough he couldn’t ski Sunday. Also to Gavin—boarded so hard he broke his board and doesn’t remember how!! Everybody agreed: The best riding, whether on ski’s or board, of the whole trip. Everybody finished on a massive high—though you wouldn’t guess it by this!

Sleeping....Beauties??
